

Dmytro Los

Junior Front end Developer

Profile

Hello!

My name is Dmytro. I have been doing IT for the last 1,5 years. I graduated from the Hexlet IT school, where received the knowledge necessary for front-end development. I am talking not only about tools like JS, HTML, CSS, Git, React, Redux, etc. But also about the basic concepts of development, algorithmic thinking and problem solving patterns. After my studies, I practiced a lot in developing pet projects, until I finally found an internship at SysGears Company. The internship helped me develop my skills and learn new tools, for example I switched to Typescript.

Experience

Full Stack Developer Intern | SysGears

Nov 2022 – Feb 2023

During the internship, I worked under the guidance of an experienced team leader. I've done projects whose main purpose was to prepare candidate for a position of Junior developer.

My last project was an client server calculator written according to MVC pattern. So as I was at the position of Full Stack Intern I exposed the client side of my application using the NextJS. The state was managed using the Redux Toolkit. The server side was implemented on the NestJS library which was new for me. The server was connected to MongoDB using Mongoose, where I kept the history of user requests. I also kept the last requests in the cache to optimize the code. Tests for my application services and controllers were written using Jest.

Education

Hexlet IT School

November 2021 — September 2022

Bachelor, Odesa National Maritime Academy

September 2012 — April 2018

In conclusion, I want to say that I can work as a team member solving tasks on my own but listening to the opinion of experienced colleagues. My level of English is B-2, which allows me to read documentation and understand technical tasks. I would like to be useful and work to achieve common goals. Thank you for your time. And I look forward to our good cooperation.
