Project Experience

Real estate web-service

Web-service, full cycle design.

STAGE is a web-service for selling and buying real estate.

The goal was to create easy to use web-service with modern design.

Project was designed in four stages: competitors analysis, development strategy, designing and prototyping. I've also created an adaptation for desktop, tablet and mobile versions.

Restaurant table booking Mobile app

Mobile application, full cycle design.

Main task was to create an application with possibility to choose and to book table with the help of restaurant's layout. Project was designed in four stages: competitors analysis, sitemap development, designing and prototyping.
