

Full-Stack Developer

Maksym Borovets

Programming is my biggest passion and I hope that this feeling is mutual. I am a front-end developer whose best friends are React and React Native. When I am not coding I watch videos about new technologies, read some articles and try to improve my knowledge. I am well organised and I am able to work independently. There are no bugs that can stop me and there are no unsolvable tasks, so I stay determined no matter what.

Being a developer makes me happy and proud. I try to keep a healthy work/life balance so in my free time I run, play football(my first biggest passion, as I am former pro football player), learn Spanish language and go to the gym.

I am fluent in English, because as a pro footballer I lived and played in Cyprus for 6 months and communicated in English. This experience still helps me in communicating with customers, but despite this, I still work on improving my vocabulary and pronunciation.

Have experience with:

- React : 3 years
- React Native : 2,5 years
- Typescript : 2 years
- Express/Nest JS : 1,5 years
- English level : intermediate
