Summary

After 15 years of legal practice, I've finally decided to change my profession to something that interests me. I successfully graduated GoIT school, have solid initial knowledge of HTML, JavaScript, React, Redux, Node.js, understand the principles of writing and structuring code. I think, the web app is like a digitally-alive creature, that is created by the developer and growing up with updates whole its digital life. Web developing is not just coding, it's about creating useful and functional apps.
